PRINCIPAL ACTIVITY

The principal activity of the Group during the financial year is running environmental campaigns to promote positive behaviour change.

SHORT AND LONG TERM OBJECTIVES

Planet Ark's short and long term objectives are to meet the objects of our constitution which are:

- a) To protect and enhance the natural environment
- b) To motivate and assist individuals and businesses to make simple and positive changes to their attitudes and actions in ways which will contribute to protecting and enhancing the natural environment
- c) To educate individuals and businesses to be aware of their impact on the natural world
- d) To protect the planet's ability to sustain life
- e) To work alongside and with businesses in order to bring about positive environmental change.

STRATEGIES

The Group's strategy for achieving these objectives includes:

- a) Working collaboratively with businesses, industry associations and all levels of government to promote positive environmental behaviour change amongst the Australian community
- b) Raising awareness of environmental issues through our information services, environmental campaigns, social media and newsletters
- c) Encouraging positive environmental behaviour change through participation in our solutions based campaigns and information services
- d) Providing identification of better environmental buying choices through our licensing program
- e) Striving to attract and retain quality employees who want to help create a sustainable future.

The activities below are some examples of way the Group is achieving its objectives:

- a) Enhancing our environment and connecting people with nature with 300,000 people taking part in planting over 1.4 million native trees, grasses, shrubs and edible plants. Students engaged in environmental stewardship initiatives at over 3,000 school planting sites. An estimated $5.6 million dollars in volunteer labour was dedicated to green outcomes in our National Tree Day campaign
- b) Educating Australian businesses and the wider community on what and where to recycle via our information services including RecyclingNearYou, Business Recycling, National Recycling Week and Cartridges for Planet Ark. These services enjoyed over three million visits across the year.
- c) Motivating individuals and companies to recycle over 3.3 million printer cartridges, via Cartridges 4 Planet Ark

Full details of our campaign results are contained in our separate Annual Review report.

KEY PERFORMANCE MEASURES

High awareness as well as trust and credibility (as reflected in organisational reputation) are essential in achieving behaviour change results. We aim to achieve a minimum prompted awareness of 75% and to be listed in the top 10 organisations that are judged to be acting in a sustainable and ethical manner (organisational reputation).

We will source this from LOHAS research when available and endeavour to replace this with other research conducted on our behalf when not.

Where possible we measure the results of our campaigns via various methods such as the number of participants in a particular environmental activity, and the number of actions, for example trees planted or items recycled.

We aim to achieve increases each year in these measures where sufficient resources are available.

OPERATING RESULTS

The consolidated net result of the Group for the financial year, after providing for income tax, amounted to a surplus of $4,343 (2014 loss of $127,737). The result reflects decreases of 13.6% in expenditure and 9% in revenue from 2014.

The parent entity received $nil dividends from its subsidiaries (2014: $45,000).

AFTER BALANCE DATE EVENTS

No matters or circumstances have arisen since the end of the financial year which have significantly affected or may significantly affect the operations of the Group, the results of those operations, or the state of affairs of the Group in future financial years.

ENVIRONMENTAL ISSUES

The Group's operations are not regulated by any significant environmental regulation, under a law of the Commonwealth or of a state or territory.

GOING CONCERN

Directors are confident that based on current contracts, new contracts under negotiation and new business under development, the Company will generate sufficient cash to meet its expenses. Directors are carefully monitoring cash flows and have put in place operating structures consistent with available cash.

Planet Ark Environmental Foundation ABN 26 057 221 959
Company limited by guarantee reporting under the Corporations Act

The consolidated financial statements and notes represent those of Planet Ark Environmental Foundation and its Controlled Entity, (the Group) incorporated and domiciled in Australia. Planet Ark Foundation is a company limited by guarantee.

The Financial Statements were authorised for issue on 30 October 2015 by the Directors of the Company.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

Basis of Preparation

The financial statements are general purpose financial statements that have been prepared in accordance with Australian Accounting Standards (AASBs) (including Australian Accounting Interpretations) and the Corporations Act 2001. The Company is a not-for-profit entity for financial reporting purposes under Australian Accounting Standards.

Material accounting policies adopted in the preparation of these financial statements are presented below and have been consistently applied unless otherwise stated.

The financial statements, except for the cashflow information, have been prepared on an accruals basis and are based on historical costs, modified, where applicable by the measurement at fair value of selected non-current assets, financial assets and financial liabilities. The amounts presented in the financial statements have been rounded to the nearest dollar.

Accounting Policies

(a) Revenue

Non-reciprocal sponsorship revenue is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the entity obtains control of the sponsorship and it is probable that the economic benefits gained from the sponsorship will flow to the entity and the amount of the sponsorship can be measured reliably.

If conditions are attached to the sponsorship which must be satisfied before it is eligible to receive the contribution, the recognition of the sponsorship as revenue will be deferred until those conditions are satisfied.

Where revenue is received whereby the Group incurs an obligation to deliver economic value directly back to the sponsor, this is considered a reciprocal transaction and the revenue is recognised in the statement of financial position as a liability until the service has been delivered to the sponsor, otherwise the sponsorship is recognised as income on receipt.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Donations and bequests are recognised as revenue when received.

Interest revenue is recognised using the effective interest rate method, which for floating rate financial assets is the rate inherent in the instrument. Dividend revenue is recognised when the right to receive a dividend has been established.

Revenue from the rendering of a service is recognised upon delivery of the service to the customers.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

(b) Fair value of assets and liabilities

Where possible and appropriate, the Company measures its assets and liabilities at fair value on either a recurring or non-recurring basis, depending on the requirements of the applicable Accounting Standard.

Fair value is the price the Company would have to receive to sell an asset or would have to pay to transfer a liability in an orderly (unforced) transaction between independent, knowledgeable and willing market participants at the measurement date.

As fair value is a market-based measure, the closest equivalent observable market pricing information is used to determine fair value. Adjustments to market values may be made having regard to the characteristics of the specific asset or liability. The fair values of assets and liabilities that are not traded in an active market are determined using one or more valuation techniques. These valuation techniques maximise, to the extent possible, the use of observable market data.

(c) Property, Plant and Equipment:

Each class of property, plant and equipment is carried at cost or fair values as indicated, less, where applicable, any accumulated depreciation and any impairment losses.

Plant and Equipment

Plant and equipment are measured on the cost basis and are therefore carried at cost less accumulated depreciation and any accumulated impairment losses. In the event the carrying amount of plant and equipment is greater than the estimated recoverable amount, the carrying amount is written down immediately to the estimated recoverable amount. A formal assessment of recoverable amount is made when impairment indicators are present (refer to Note 1(f) for details of impairment).

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Plant and equipment that have been contributed at no cost or for nominal cost are valued and recognised at the fair value of the asset at the date it is acquired.

Depreciation

The depreciable amount of all fixed assets, including buildings and capitalised lease assets, but excluding freehold land is depreciated on a straight-line basis over the asset's useful life to the Group commencing from the time the asset is available for use. Leasehold improvements are depreciated over the shorter of either the unexpired period of the lease or the estimated useful lives of the improvements.

The depreciation rates used for each class of depreciable asset are:

Class of Fixed Asset	Depreciation Rate
Motor Vehicles	22.5%
Freehold Improvements	6.5-20%
Furniture & Fittings	10-40%

The assets' residual values and useful lives are reviewed, and adjusted if appropriate, at the end of each reporting period.

Gains and losses on disposals are determined by comparing proceeds with the carrying amount. These gains or losses are included in the statement of comprehensive income. Where revalued assets are sold, amounts included in the revaluation reserve relating to that asset are transferred to retained earnings.

(d) Leases

Leases of property, plant and equipment, where substantially all the risks and benefits incidental to the ownership of the asset, but not the legal ownership, are transferred to the group, are classified as finance leases.

Finance leases are capitalised, recognising an asset and a liability equal to the present value of the minimum lease payments, including any guaranteed residual values.

Leased assets are depreciated on a straight line basis over their estimated useful lives where it is likely that the Group will obtain ownership of the asset. Lease payments are allocated between the reduction of the lease liability and the lease interest expense for the period.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Lease payments for operating leases, where substantially all the risks and benefits remain with the lessor, are recognised as expenses on a straight-line basis over life of the lease term.

Lease incentives under operating leases are recognised as a liability and amortised on a straight-line basis over the life of the lease term.

(e) Financial instruments

Initial recognition and measurement

Financial assets and financial liabilities are recognised when the entity becomes party to the contractual provisions to the instrument. For financial assets, this is equivalent to the date that the Company commits itself to either purchase or sell the asset (i.e. trade date accounting is adopted).

Financial instruments are initially measure at fair value plus transaction costs except where the instrument is classified “at fair value through profit or loss”, in which case transaction costs are recognised as expenses in profit or loss immediately.

Classification and subsequent measurement

Financial instruments are subsequently measured at fair value, amortised cost using the effective interest method, or cost. Where available, quoted prices in active market are used to determine fair value. In other circumstances, valuation techniques are adopted.

Amortised cost is calculated as the amount at which the financial asset or financial liability is measured at initial recognition less principal repayments and any reduction for impairment, and adjusted for any cumulative amortisation of the difference between that initial amount and the maturity amount calculated using the effective interest method.

The effective interest method is used to allocate interest income or interest expense over the relevant period and is equivalent to the rate that exactly discounts estimated future cash payments or receipts (including fees, transaction costs and other premiums or discounts) through the expected life (or when this cannot be reliably predicted, the contractual term) of the financial instrument to the net carrying amount of the financial asset or financial liability. Revisions to expected future net cash flows will necessitate an adjustment to the carrying amount with a consequential recognition of an income or expense item in profit or loss.

(i) Financial assets at fair value through profit or loss

Financial assets are classified at “fair value through profit or loss” when they are either held for trading for the purpose of short-term profit taking, derivatives not held for hedging purposes, or when they are designated as such to avoid an accounting mismatch or to enable performance evaluation where a group of financial assets is managed by the key management personnel on a fair value basis in accordance with a documented risk management or investment strategy. Such assets are subsequently measured at fair value with changes in the carrying amount being included in profit or loss.

(ii) Loans and receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market and are subsequently measured at amortised cost. Gains or losses are recognised in profit or loss through the amortisation process and when the financial asset is derecognised.

Where the future economic benefits of the asset are not primarily dependent upon the asset's ability to generate net cash inflows and when the entity would, if deprived of the asset, replace its remaining future economic benefits, value in use is determined as the depreciated replacement cost of an asset.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an asset's class, the entity estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the class of assets belong.

Where an impairment loss on a revalued asset is identified, this is recognised against the revaluation surplus in respect of the same class of asset to the extent that the impairment loss does not exceed the amount in the revaluation surplus for that class of asset.

(f) Impairment of Assets

At the end of each reporting period, the Group reviews the carrying values of its tangible and intangible assets to determine whether there is any indication that those assets have been impaired. If such an indication exists, the recoverable amount of the asset, being the higher of the asset's fair value less costs to sell and value in use, is compared to the asset's carrying value. Any excess of the asset's carrying value over its recoverable amount is recognised in profit or loss.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Where the future economic benefits of the asset are not primarily dependent on the asset's ability to generate net cash inflows and when the Group would, if deprived of the asset, replace its remaining future economic benefits, value in use is determined as the depreciated replacement cost of an asset.

Where it is not possible to estimate the recoverable amount of an asset class, the Group estimates the recoverable amount of the cash-generating unit to which the class of assets belong.

Where an impairment loss on a revalued asset is identified, this is recognised against the revaluation surplus in respect of the same class of asset to the extent that the impairment loss does not exceed the amount in the revaluation surplus for the same class of asset.

(g) Employee Provisions

Provision is made for the Group's liability for employee benefits arising from services rendered by employees to the end of the reporting period.

Short-term employee provisions

Employee benefits expected to be settled within one year have been measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liability is settled.

Long-term employee provisions

Employee benefits payable later than one year have been measured at the present value of the estimated future cash outflows to be made for those benefits. In determining the liability, consideration is given to employee wage increases and the probability that the employee may not satisfy vesting requirements. Those cash outflows are discounted using market yield on national government bonds with terms to maturity that match the expected timing of cash flows attributable to employee provisions.

Contributions are made by the Group to an employee superannuation fund and are charged as expenses when incurred.

(h) Cash on hand

Cash on hand include cash on hand, deposits held at-call with banks, other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less, and bank overdrafts. Bank overdrafts are shown within short-term borrowings in current liabilities on the statement of financial position

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

(i) Accounts Receivable and Other Debtors

Accounts receivable and other debtors include amounts due from members as well as amounts receivable from customers for goods sold in the ordinary course of business. Receivables expected to be collected within 12 months of the end of the reporting period are classified as current assets. All other receivables are classified as non-current assets.

Accounts receivable are initially recognised at fair value and subsequently measured at amortised cost using the effective interest rate method, less any provision for impairment. Refer to Note 1(d) for further discussion on the determination of impairment losses.

(j) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Australian Tax Office (ATO).

Receivables and payables are stated inclusive of the amount of GST receivable or payable. The net amount of GST recoverable from or payable to the ATO is included with other receivables or payables in the statement of financial position.

Cash flows are presented on a gross basis. The GST components of cash flows arising from investing or financing activities, which are recoverable from or payable to the ATO, are presented as operating cash flows included in receipts from customers or payments to suppliers.

(k) Income Tax

No provision for income tax has been raised in the Company as the Group is exempt from income tax under Division 50 of the Income Tax Assessment Act 1997.

The Company's subsidiaries' income tax expense for the year comprises current income tax expense. The subsidiary companies do not apply deferred tax.

Current income tax expense charged to the profit or loss account is the tax payable on taxable income using applicable income tax rates enacted, or substantially enacted, as at reporting date. Current tax liabilities are therefore measured at the amounts expected to be paid to the relevant taxation authority.

(l) Intangibles

Software is recorded at cost. Software has a finite life and is carried at cost less accumulated amortisation and any impairment losses. It has an estimated useful life of between one and three years. It is assessed annually for impairment.

Patents and trademarks are recognised at the cost of acquisition. Patents and trademarks have a finite life and are carried at cost less any accumulated amortisation and any impairment losses. Patents and trademarks are amortised over their useful life of 10 years.

(m) Provisions

Provisions are recognised when the Group has a legal or constructive obligation, as a result of past events, for which it is probable that an outflow of economic benefits will result and that outflow can be reliably measured. Provisions recognised represent the best estimate of the amounts required to settle the obligation at the end of the reporting period.

(n) Comparative Figures

Where required by Accounting Standards comparative figures have been adjusted to conform with changes in presentation for the current year.

When the Group applies an accounting policy retrospectively, makes a retrospective restatement or reclassifies items in its financial statements, a statement of financial position as at the beginning of the earliest comparative period must be closed.

(o) Accounts Payable and Other Payables

Accounts payable and other payables represent the liability outstanding at the end of the reporting period for goods and services received by the Group during the reporting period which remain unpaid. The balance is recognised as a current liability with the amounts normally paid within 30 days of recognition of the liability.

(p) Critical Accounting Estimates and Judgements

The Directors evaluate estimates and judgements incorporated into the financial statements based on historical knowledge and best available current information. Estimates assume a reasonable expectation of future events and are based on current trends and economic data, obtained both externally and within the group.

Note 1: Summary of Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

(q) Economic Dependence

Planet Ark Environmental Foundation and its controlled entities are not dependent on any one major customer or Government Department for the majority of the revenue to operate the business.

(r) Principles of Consolidation:

The consolidated accounts of the economic Group include the accounts of the Company, being the head Company, and its controlled entities.

Where a Company either began or ceased to be controlled during the period, the results are included only from the date control commenced or up to the date control ceased.

All controlled entities are wholly owned and therefore there are no outside interests in the equity and results of the controlled entities, and as such there is no disclosure of outside equity interests.

(s) Adoption of new and amending Accounting Standards

The AASB has issued a number of new and amended standards Accounting Standards that have mandatory application dates for future reporting periods, some of which are relevant to the company. The company has decided not to early adopt any of the new and amended standards. The company's assessment of the new and amended standards that are relevant to the company but applicable in future reporting periods is set out below.

AASB 9: Financial Instruments (December 2014) and associated Amending Standards (applicable for annual reporting periods commencing on or after 1 January 2018).

These Standards will be applicable retrospectively (subject to the provisions on hedge accounting outlined below) and include revised requirements for the classification and measurement of financial instruments, revised recognition and derecognition requirements for financial instruments, and simplified requirements for hedge accounting.

The key changes that may affect the company on initial application of AASB 9 and associated Amending Standards include certain simplifications to the classification of financial assets, simplifications to the accounting of embedded derivatives, upfront accounting for expected credit loss and the irrevocable election to recognise gains and losses on investments in equity instruments that are not held for trading in other comprehensive income. AASB 9 also introduces a new model for hedge accounting that will allow greater flexibility in the ability to hedge risk, particularly with respect to the hedging of non-financial items. Should the company elect to change its hedge accounting policies in line with the new hedge accounting requirements of AASB 9, the application of such accounting would be largely prospective.

Although the directors anticipate that the adoption of AASB 9 may have an impact on the company's financial instruments, it is impracticable at this stage to provide a reasonable estimate of such impact.

The Company does not hold any financial assets whose terms have been renegotiated, but which would otherwise be past due or impaired.

No trade receivables were found to be impaired and accordingly no allowance has been made for credit losses in 2015. The movement in the allowance for credit losses can be reconciled as follows:

Financial Risk Management Policies

The Board's overall risk management oversight is directed toward the Company meeting its financial targets, whilst minimising potential adverse effects on financial performance. Risk management policies are considered by the Board on a regular basis. These considerations include credit risk policies and future cash flow requirements.

Specific Financial Risk Exposures and Management

The main risks the Group is exposed to through its financial instruments are credit risk, liquidity risk and market risk relating to interest rate risk and price risk.

Credit risk

Exposure to credit rate risk on financial assets arises from the potential non-performance by counterparties of contract obligations that could lead to a financial loss for the Group.

The maximum exposure to credit risk by class of financial assets at the end of the reporting period is equivalent to the carrying value and classification of those financial assets (net of any provisions) as presented in the statement of financial position. Trade and other receivables that are neither past due or impaired are considered to be high quality. Aggregates of such amounts are detailed in Note 6.

More than 90 days		104,802	42,900

Note 19: Financial-Risk Management (cont'd)

Delays in invoice payments relate to some larger corporations with complex internal approval and payment systems and where invoices are issued significantly ahead of sponsored activities being completed.

The Group has no significant concentrations of credit risk exposure to any single counterparty or group of counterparties. Details with respect to credit risk of Trade and

Other Receivables are provided in Note 8. Credit risk associated with banks and other financial institutions is overseen by the Board. Surplus funds are only invested with counterparties with a Standard & Poor's rating of at least AA. The following table provides information regarding the credit risk relating to cash and money market securities based on Standard & Poor's counterparty credit ratings.

		2015	2014
Cash & cash equivalents - AA rated		364,919	188,236
	6	364,919	188,236

Liquidity risk

Liquidity risk arises from the possibility that the Group might encounter difficulty in settling its debts or otherwise meeting its obligations related to financial liabilities. The Company manages this risk through the following mechanisms:

- preparing forward looking cashflow analysis in relation to its operational, investing and financing activities;
- maintaining a reputable credit profile;
- managing credit risk related to financial assets;
- only investing surplus cash with major financial institutions; and
- comparing the maturity profile of financial liabilities with the realisation profile of financial assets.

The Group's policy is to ensure no more than 30% of borrowings mature in any 12 month period. The tables below reflect an undiscounted contractual maturity analysis for financial liabilities.

Cash flows realised from financial assets reflect management's expectation as to the timing of realisation. Actual timing may therefore be different from that disclosed. The timing of cash flows presented in the table to settle financial liabilities reflects the earliest contractual settlement dates.

c. Market risk

Interest rate risk

Interest rate risk is considered minimal as the entity had no significant borrowings or interest income.

Fair Value Measurements

The Company does not measure and recognise any assets or liabilities at fair value after initial recognition.

Fair values derived may be based on information that is estimated or subject to judgement, where changes in assumptions may have a material impact on the amounts estimated. Areas of judgement and the assumptions have been detailed below. Where possible valuation information used to calculate fair value is extracted from the market, with more reliable information available from markets that are actively traded.

Note 19: Financial Risk Management (cont'd)

In this regard, fair values for listed securities are obtained from quoted market bid prices. Where securities are unlisted and no market quotes are available, fair value is obtained using discounted cash flow analysis and other valuation techniques commonly used by market participants.

Differences between fair values and carrying values of financial instruments with fixed interest rates are due to the change in discount rates being applied by the market since their initial recognition by the Group. Most of these instruments which are carried at amortised cost (i.e. trade receivables, loan liabilities) are held until maturity and therefore the net fair value figures calculated have little relevance to the Group.

- (i) Cash and cash equivalents, trade and other receivables and trade and other payables are short-term instruments in nature whose carrying value is equivalent to fair value. Trade and other payables exclude amounts provided for annual leave, which is outside the scope of AASB 139.
- (ii) For listed available-for-sale and held-for-trading financial assets, closing quoted bid prices at the end of the reporting period are used.

Note 20: Capital Management

Management controls the capital of the Group to ensure that adequate cash flows are generated to fund its programs and that returns from investments are maximised within tolerable risk parameters. The Board oversees the overall risk management strategy.

The Group's capital consists of financial liabilities supported by financial assets.

Management effectively manages the Group's capital by assessing the Group's financial risks and responding to changes in these risks and in the market. These responses may include the consideration of debt levels. There have been no changes to the strategy adopted by management to control the capital of the Group since the previous year.

The gearing ratios for the years ended 30 June 2015 and 30 June 2014 are as follows:

Those Standards require that we comply with relevant ethical requirements relating to audit engagements and plan and perform the audit to obtain reasonable assurance as to whether the financial report is free from material misstatement.

An audit involves performing procedures to obtain audit evidence about the amounts and disclosures in the financial report. The procedures selected depend on the Auditor's judgement, including the assessment of the risks of material misstatement of the financial report, whether due to fraud or error. In making those risk assessments, the Auditor considers internal control relevant to the Group's preparation of the financial report that gives a true and fair view in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Group's internal control. An audit also includes evaluating the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates made by the Directors, as well as evaluating the overall presentation of the financial report.

We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our audit opinion.
